“Our strong long-term relative performance speaks to our team's ability to navigate through global economic triumph and turbulence during full market cycles. This is driven by our process, deep intellectual capital and a portfolio management team who has been together for over 25 years. By focusing on the long-term, the portfolio management team seeks to reduce the short-term emotional factors that sometimes cause market disruption. The foundation of our process is extensive, in-house research, coupled with a disciplined valuation process, an abundance of common sense, a healthy dose of humility, and an emphasis on risk-adjusted returns” said Michael Dzialo, Founder, President and Chief Investment Officer.
